

Standards of Training in Gas Work

Gas Skills Training and Assessment

Information Sheet	IMPORTANT - This course was formerly known as ACOPS
Title	STGW 155 LPG Safety - Caravan Holiday Home Manufacturer (LAV)
Duration	4/5 days
Aims and Objectives	A training and assessment programme designed to clearly identify the skills and knowledge required by a competent person, to safely carry out installation work and safety checks in relation to gas systems and appliances installed in Caravan Holiday Homes (LAV).
Scope	This programme is intended for operatives engaged in the installation of gas systems and appliances during the construction of Caravan Holiday Homes (LAV).
Pre-Requisites	Candidates must have completed a basic health and safety course and have working knowledge of Caravan Holiday Homes (LAV).
Training	The training programme will utilise our Book 3 Leisure Accommodation Vehicles & Residential Park Homes manual (300+ pages) and encompass the following topics: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Gas Safety (Installation & Use) Regulations 1998• Fire safety actions• Properties and characteristics of LPG• Complete and incomplete combustion• Tightness testing procedures• Open, closed and balanced flues• Gas storage• Appliances• Gas safety checks
Competence	The candidate's knowledge and understanding of the subject will be established by the application of a multi-choice theoretical question papers and completion of specified practical tasks.
Assessment	The assessment will be conducted by an assessor qualified to A1 or equivalent standard.
Verification	The assessment process will be verified by an internal verifier qualified to V1 or equivalent standard.
Certification	The programme will be certificated by LPG Training. A certificate of competence and photo ID card will be issued to successful candidates.

Alternatively we can arrange certification through Logic Certification Ltd – A Certification Body accredited by UKAS as compliant with the requirements of BS EN ISO 17024. Please inform us of this preference at the time of order as this will involve additional time and cost